Winter Sports Travel Insurance

Are you thinking about trying your hand at something different this year? Winter sports travel insurance might not be something you’ve considered before, but if you’re hitting the slopes it’s a must-have. With policies which have been specifically designed by winter sports enthusiasts, you can rely on our cover.

Do I need Winter Sports Travel Insurance?

Winter sports aren’t just skiing and snowboarding – in fact, there are a wide array of activities perfect for any snow-enthusiast.

All winter sports do come with an element of risk; therefore, a regular policy simply isn’t enough to keep you fully-protected. Instead, you need insurance specific to winter sports.

Having cover designed by winter sports enthusiasts will help you feel braver on the slopes, knowing that you’re safer.

What Does Our Winter Sports Travel Insurance Include?

- Single and Multi Trip policies – with differing levels of cover to suit your needs
- Convenient 24/7 access to a UK based GP at any time during your trip
- Cover for UK, European and Worldwide trips
- Cover for damaged, lost or delayed equipment (both your own and those which you’ve hired)
- Cover for skiing (and many other winter activities) when both on and off-piste (in resort)
- The ability to ski whenever you like during the 12-month trip doesn’t last longer than 31 days
- Discounts for couples
- Children under 18 are covered free of charge under our family policy

Winter Sport Safety Tips

While Holidaysafe’s winter sports insurance will cover you, it doesn’t mean you should throw caution to the wind. There are a number of easy ways to make your chances of having an accident, or getting injured, much slimmer.

- Learn to fall properly – It sounds an odd one, but knowing how to fall is actually one of the most important safety tips when it comes to skiing, snowboarding or any other kind of winter sport. While your natural reaction will be to try and stay on your feet, this can actually lead to damaging your ankles or legs.

- Use a helmet – Perhaps less surprisingly, it’s highly encouraged you wear a helmet every time you hit the slopes. When you’re travelling helmetless at rapid speeds, there’s a good chance you’ll do damage to your brain if you crash and your head makes contact with the ground.

- Follow the rules – When it comes to personal safety, it’s important you put your renegade streak to one side. Rules are made on the slopes for a reason. Safety is the name of the game when these are created. Every step taken is to ensure the greatest levels of personal well-being possible. As such, any laws you see need to be followed at all times.

- Tell a friend – Whatever route you’re headed for, make sure to let someone know where you’re going. You can leave a note to say where you’ll be if you don’t see anybody prior to heading out to the slopes.

These are some of the most important safety tips for anyone skiing or snowboarding. If you follow them, you’ll find your chances of picking up a serious injury are considerably reduced. That said, having the safety blanket of winter sports insurance cannot be overlooked.

What are the Benefits of our Winter Sports Travel Insurance?

Even if you’re the most cautious skier in the world, accidents still happen. There are loads of reasons why it’s good to get yourself insured. Just some of the major benefits include:

- Equipment & ski pass loss – If you misplace any of your skiing equipment or your ski pass, you’ll need to fork out a lot of cash to cover damages. That won’t be the case if you already have our winter sports insurance package in place.

- Equipment hire – If your luggage doesn’t arrive on time (or goes missing in general) your insurance will pay for you to hire new equipment when you arrive at your resort. This will save you a massive headache at a time when you’re likely to already be stressed.

- Off-piste skiing within the resort boundaries – Not everyone is as confident as they think they are on the slopes of the piste. For those confident enough to tackle the off-piste, your insurance will also take this into account.
Medical costs – Arguably the most important reason for cover, your medical costs will be taken care of if you’re insured. With bills reaching the thousands in some countries for hospital care, this is a crucial element of cover.

What sports are covered by winter sports travel insurance?
